Legal Update

Dear friends and clients, Today, the so-called Karin Law will be promulgated by the President of the Republic, which modifies the Labor Code and other legal bodies, regarding prevention, investigation and punishment of workplace, sexual harassment or violence at work.

The content of this information does not and cannot be considered, in any case, legal advice on the part of its authors, which has been written in a merely informative manner.

On the other hand, on January 29 of this year, Law 21.645 comes into force, which substantially modifies the current title II of the Labor Code, on "the protection of maternity, paternity and family life."

Simple modifications or a reframing of labor relations?

Get informed, learn about the changes and fundamental aspects of the new legal modifications.
